Our RadioListener Groups from Santa Marta, Santa Cruz la Junta & Santa Cruz la Milagrosa attended the event celebrating the Radio's 28th anniversary.

Radio Victoria, along with other members of the Salvadoran Participative Radio Broadcasting Association (ARPAS), in a symbolic act celebrated the declaration of the "National Community Media Day" and presented a balance of how reforms to the Telecommunications Law, which finally recognized "community media", have been applied and to highlight the work that community media has been doing.

Radio Victoria received an important recognition: "The Community Communications Award - For outstanding communications work accompanying communities in defense of the environment and life" which we dedicated to our audiences.

May 14th is "National Poetry Day", established by a legislative decree in 2013 as a way to recognize this literary genre as well as highlighting the life and work of Roque Dalton who is nationally and internationally recognized and considered a symbol of Salvadoran poetry. His birth date - May 14th - marks this celebration.

The legislative decree establishes that Roque Dalton has been one of the Salvadoran writers with the most published works and who dedicated his whole life to the development of literature in El Salvador for which reason he was declared: "Meritorious Poet of El Salvador" in 2007.

We celebrated together with our loyal listener, Graciela Nolzco, her 55th birthday. The 7 hens soup she brought was delicious!!!
